

Pro-Life Message for February 2025 Bulletin

Recently, on Friday, the 24th of January, 2025, we had the March for Life in Washington, D.C. and in Staten Island we had a motorcade from Saint Charles Church, praying the Rosary, with a stop in front of the Women's Center and then SIUH-N, both abortuaries associated with SIUH. The need for support of the unborn in Staten Island remains. Please use the links provided to the excellent organizations listed to find a means to show your support for Life.

Also on the same day, President Trump signed a Pardon for twenty-three Pro-Life workers, including 76-year-old Catholic, pro-life activist, and grandmother, Joan Andrews Bell (the wife of Good Counsel Homes co-founder Christopher Bell), who were imprisoned under the auspice of the Biden Administration, for peaceful, prayerful, protesting at abortuaries. The following transcript is taken from Whitehouse.Gov, documenting President Trump as he was signing the Pardon:

MR. SCHARF: Next, we have a set of pardons for peaceful pro-life protestors who were prosecuted by the Biden administration for exercising their First Amendment rights.

THE PRESIDENT: Do you know how many?

MR. SCHARF: I believe it's 23, sir.

THE PRESIDENT: Twenty-three people that were prosecuted. They should not have been prosecuted. Man- of — many of them are — are elderly people. They should not have been prosecuted. This is a great honor to sign this.

(The proclamation is signed.)

They'll be very happy.

MR. SCHARF: Thank you, sir.

THE PRESIDENT: So, they're all in prison now?

MR. SCHARF: Some are. Some are — are out of custody.

THE PRESIDENT: It's ridiculous.

Additionally, President Trump reinstated the Mexico City Policy and enforced the Hyde Amendment in a pair of executive actions, on Friday aimed at preventing taxpayer money from being used for abortions domestically and abroad. The Trump Administration has made significant strides in supporting the Pro-Life agenda very quickly upon re-taking office.

Brothers and Sisters, please remember to pray for the unborn and all affected by the terrible blight of abortion.

Vivat Jesus!
